The eMan Solution will enable centralized technical publications management and access world-wide for Greenwich AeroGroup MRO companies

AviIT, Inc. the makers of The eMan Solution are pleased to announce that Greenwich AeroGroup has selected The eMan Solution, the aviation industry's first and only, centralized, technical publications management and delivery solution, to be implemented at Greenwich AeroGroup MRO locations.

The eMan Solution empowers all authorized users to gain instant access to all technical publications including, OEM applications, flight operations content, company maintenance documentation and virtually any other electronic application or file via the convenience of the secure eMan Solution portal.

The eMan Solution eliminates the need for maintaining duplicate manuals, centralizes and makes content available to all authorized users (including remote access), and ensures consistent version control at all locations. All user-activities are recorded for future audit purposes as required, and complements compliance tracking, ERP programs, and MRO software applications.

"With Greenwich AeroGroup's growing sphere of world-wide operations, we needed a cost-effective, proven solution to centralize our multiple technical libraries, and optimize our version and revision control process commented Brian Rehberg, Director of MRO Products.. With The eMan Solution, we will virtually eliminate the need to distribute technical documentation and drastically reduce the labor and management associated with maintaining multiple revisions at our various locations.
