

eManWeb

What is eManWeb™ ?

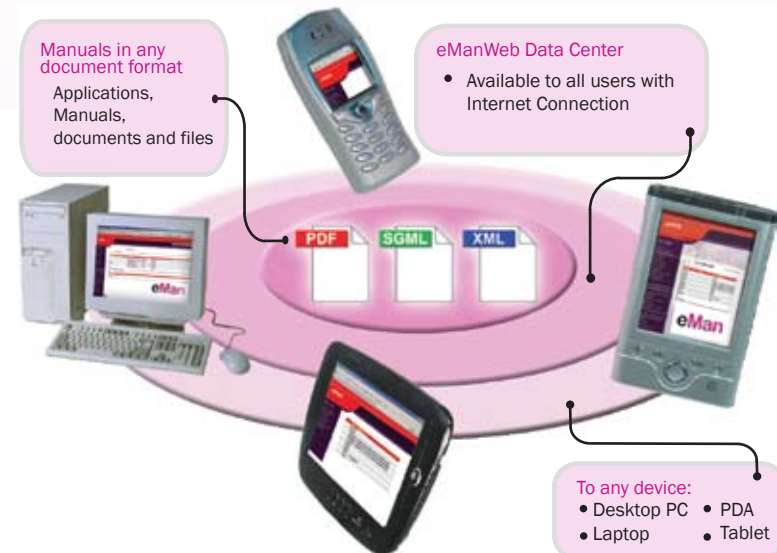

When your business faces frequent and rapid updates to information that must be distributed widely or accessed remotely by users, and you need to maintain version control, safety and regulatory compliance, you need eManWeb from AviIT. eManWeb eliminates the need for duplicate subscriptions.

eMan revolutionizes the management, distribution and access of aircraft maintenance documentation. eManWeb eliminates the need for maintaining multiple, costly OEM subscriptions. eManWeb enables your users access to your data, anytime, anyplace, on any enabled device. By centralizing a single-copy of each OEM application, subscription, manual, or other electronic file, users have unlimited access to your data via eManWeb 24/7/365.

Uploading your data to eManWeb's secure data facility is simple and secure. eManWeb administrators work with you to ensure correct and timely content placement. Simply upload your content to eManWeb and instantly make your data available to all authorized users. You control the content, you control the version, you control the user access. Your data remains on eManWeb until you request deletion or revision. Confirmation of any and all changes are done in real-time. It's that simple.

No IT resources are required, no client machines to update. Since only one version of the content is available at any given time, you can be assured that only the most recent version of the data will be available for use. It's eManWeb.

Your data, any time, any place, over any enabled device.

eManWeb Key Benefits

Maintenance Technicians

- Flexible Solution
Access information from any location, any device with a browser, over virtually any network type/speed enabling a safer, more efficient and productive process.
- Faster Information Access
Spend more time on maintenance and less time looking for information.
- Mobile Working
Thin client approach enables use of wireless working via small and light devices.
- Quality of Service
Improve aircraft safety and reliability as engineers only have access to latest versions of documentation.
- Reduce Delays
Access to all aircraft data means faster problem resolution and aircraft spend less time on the ground.

Technical Libraries

- Lowes Operating Costs
Improved version control creates less paperwork, reduces librarian administration burden and minimizes distribution costs.
- Reduces duplicate subscription
Eliminates all unnecessary annual renewal and subscription costs.
- Centralizes Control
Single source for all aircraft engineering information and documentation.
- Improves Compliance
Reduces risk of regulatory authority non-conformance.
- Improves Admin Capability
Records all documentation, delivers only required information to each user group and provides audit capability.

IT Departments

- Reduces Support Requirements
More user friendly solution that requires less intervention, configuration and assistance from IT.
- Empowers Technical library
90% of information updates can now be made by librarians.
- Aligns to IT Infrastructure
Removes specification and configuration issues of any remote viewing device(s).
- Maintains IT Security
Integrates and works with COTS based hardware and software.
- Supports Latest Technology
Enables easy and reliable roll out while minimizing impact on existing and future IT infrastructure support needs.
